"Scrooge" Tonight In Room 29

First evening production of "The Christmas Carol" will be staged by the Hartnell college players at 8:15 tonight in the Little Theatre. The final performance will be staged tomorrow night at the same time. All performances are open to the public for no admission charge.

A matinee production of Charles Dickens' famous story was enjoyed by college students and certain elementary schools yesterday at 3:15, when former Hartnell thespian Richard Cimino performed on the Little Theatre stage for the first time since his graduation in 1949. His appearance was very impressive, and well appreciated by the youthful audience, as judged by the general reaction to his interpretation of the role of Scrooge, and to the production as a whole.

The transition of Ebenezer Scrooge from a miserly, cold hearted individual, detested by all, to an open and warm hearted gentleman and employer who finds happiness and pleasure in giving is a fascinating tale, well portracted by the proteges of Mr. Harold H. Ulrici.

Instrumental in weaving this transition are the nephew, Fred, played by Tom Rogers; Bob Cratchit, the poverty-stricken clerk, played by Stan Lovett; ghost Marley, effectively done by Ralph Rowland; and the Christmas spirits, past, present and future, done by Roy Gibbs, Sharon Powell, and Ann Collie.

The many necessary visions which are "scrimmed" in through clever transition are the nephew Fred, lighting and musical effects are integral phases of the show. Efficiently operating the backstage effects are Jim Carlisle, Ann Collie and Tom Rogers.

Characters in the visions include Barbara Brem, Eugene Morga, Ronald Howe, Gladys Fagundes, Dorothy Hodge, Dick Johnson, Tony Lemos, Ronnie Ulrici and Johnny Lemos.

The hour show will be the last production of the semester, and any student interested in drama are urged to see Mr. Ulrici in room 29 before registration for the spring semester.

Ken Kane Is Father

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kane are the proud parents of a nine-pound, one-ounce baby boy. The child was born last Saturday night. Ken is currently attending Hartnell college and his wife, the former Nancy Munter, attended Hartnell last year.

Contrary to popular opinion, the child was not named "killer" after his father. He will be christened David Robert.

"Ball" Cancelled; Snow Ball Instead

Due to lack of interest and conflicting dates the annual Winter Ball which was scheduled for tomorrow evening, December 15, has been cancelled. In place of the Winter Ball, a dance will be held on the same evening in the women's gym, announced Sally McAnaney, commissioner of social activities.

The Snow Ball will be held from 9 to 1 with dance music provided by Wayne Walker and his orchestra who was originally scheduled to play for the Winter Ball. The dance is semiformal and tickets are $1.25 for couples and 75 cents for stags.

Decorations will revolve around a snow theme. Sally McAnaney heads the decorating committee, assisted by Kathleen Jennings, Betty Ann Cunningham, and Pat Temple.

Christmas Program Held

The annual Christmas program was held yesterday morning at 11 in the men's gymnasium. The program will be given by the U.G.C. under the direction of Miss June Handley.

The Hartnell college instrumental ensemble opened the program with "Christmas Carols Fantasy." The ensemble is under the direc-

Choir Concludes Christmas Season Today At 1:00

Hartnell College Choir will conclude its 1951 Christmas season series today with the singing of Christmas selections for the student body in the choral room at 1:00 o'clock.

Yesterday the choir presented two numbers at the Christmas assembly, "Fanfare for Christmas Day," and "The Shepherds Had An Angel." The featured soloists were Mary Gray, soprano and Mr. Lorell McCann, violinist. Oleta Mustain accompanied the group on the piano.

Before a capacity crowd of 800 the choir presented the "Christmas Oratorio" last weekend at the United Presbyterian Church of Salinas. The performance was repeated Sunday night for a group of music enthusiasts at the Community Baptist Church in King City. Monday evening the Christian Church in Watsonville was the scene for the Oratorio presentation.

Soloists for the programs included Patricia Miller, Ruth Vines, Carol Link, Robert Johnston, and John Taylor. William Stone was the organist. The "Christmas Oratorio" was composed in 1858 by Charles Camille Saint-Saens, a well-known European organist and composer. In 1915 he visited America and was guest conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the San Francisco Exposition.

Ski Club Will Ski at Donner

Reduced rates are being secured from the Donner Summit Ski Lodge which will enable the student skiers to spend three days at the lodge for $15.

Students going on the trip are: Earl Adams, Bob Heinsen, Dale Swire, Ann Post, Mary Jo Stout, Jeanette Greeb, Bobbie Brem, Rowena Regli, Pat Hoffman, Dick McCormick, Elvin Juhl, Tom Rogers, Wallace Lowry, Chuck McDonald, Jaunita Hunter, Annabeth Bird, Bob Childs, George Ragus, John Westphall, and Paul Parsons.

This trip is the first of several planned by the Hartnell college Ski club.

New Course Is Offered

A new weaving course will be offered to Hartnell students next semester on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 12.

Mr. Leon Amyx of the art department urges any interested person to contact him before the end of the semester as only four looms are available for use; two have already been assigned.

No previous experience is necessary to operate a loom announced Mr. Amyx, who hopes to arrange a display soon of the work done by this semester's weavers, Pauline Marnach, Marietta Lawson, and Fay Ikeda.

Bullis Speaks To Valley Group

Slide films and a speech entitled "Reflected Light is Not Enough" were presented to a group from the Salinas Valley Gas Association at a banquet in the Little Switzerland in Gonzales last Thursday evening by Mr. William Bullis of the Hartnell college engineering department.

The theme of the speech and slides was the coming shortage of engineers and the possible detrimental effect upon the progress and invention development in the second half of the Twentieth century. A group of 35 business men and interested citizens from Salinas to King City attended the speech given by Mr. Bullis.

The American Association of engineers is bringing the shortage of engineers to the public's attention through speeches and film slides similar to the one given in Gonzales.

Sadler Wells Ballet Enjoyed By Students

Sunday's presentation of The Sadler Wells Theatre Ballet at the Opera House in San Francisco was attended by a group of students from Hartnell Art club and art history class. This trip included a visit to four San Francisco art museums where the work of various watercolor artists was inspected by the group.

"Swan Lake, Pastoral, Harlequin in April, and Facade" were the features presented by the Ballet theatre Sunday night. The art students enjoyed the studies in the sentimental, ironic and grotesque, employing the figures of the Commedia dell'Arts, which are part of the great tradition of ballet.

Choreographer John Cranko's version, "Harlequin in April," is full of interesting, and original ideas, and made quite an impression upon the students.

Included in the group were Theresa Poor, Judy Crabtree, S. Lovett, K. McIntosh, and J. Albert. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Amyx chaperoned the group.

Addison and Stark Attend Hollister Conference

Attending a central coast counties business education meeting and luncheon in Hollister last Saturday were Dean Claud Addison and Mr. James Stark of the Hartnell business department.

High school and college business instructors met to discuss mutual problems of business education. The conference is a semester affair.

On December 4 Salinas high school business instructors were the guests of the Hartnell business faculty in the home economics living room. Business education was again the topic under discussion.

UGC Decorates Christmas Tree

The Christmas tree displayed in the main hall this week was a gift of Larkey's Christmas tree lot on South Main Street. The tree was decorated by members of Upsilon Gamma Chi under the direction of Miss June Handley.

This evening the tree will be moved to the Lions Club where it will be used for their annual children's Christmas party.

The UGC has been decorating Christmas trees at the college for several years.

NEA Bulletin Reviews Draft Rules

In spite of a more favorable enrollment picture this fall than had been expected, college administrators can scarcely view the future with optimism. Only a sound policy of student deferment enabled the colleges to maintain their enrollment at this year's figures. Half a million college students have been deferred, according to the last report of Mr. Wilson, the director of defense mobilization. But in view of the current and prospective manpower shortages, the present deferment policy may not be continued. There is a growing body of opinion, some of it held in the highest government circles, that there should be an end to student deferments. The military manpower situation is about as follows: The present strength of the armed forces is approximately 3,600,000. It is generally believed an increase to 4,000,000 will be requested and granted. The present pool of available manpower in the 18½ to 25-year-old group will be exhausted toward the end of 1952. Selective Service estimates that thereafter at least 900,000 men will be needed annually, whereas under present liberal deferment policies only 500,000 18½-year-olds will become available. The difference may be made up by (1) increasing the period of military service; (2) reducing the draft age to 18; (3) curtailing further or eliminating dependency deferments; (4) modifying or abolishing occupational, including student deferments. The deferment of college students is the most vulnerable area and sentiment is building up for this solution to the problem. If such a step were taken, total enrollment of full-time students would drop by one third or more, with disastrous effect upon the colleges.

Rowland Presents Christmas Readings

Ralph Rowland of the Hartnell College Players will present a program of readings this afternoon at 2:45 p.m. before the Salinas Woman's Club. Rowland's selections will include adaptations from two famous Christmas stories, Dickens' "Christmas Carol" and "Christmas Every Day," by William Dean Howells.

Did you know that cost of adult education is only 2.4 per cent of the cost of all public schools? And that it reaches at least as many people as are enrolled in all the secondary schools of the state?

CAMPUSOLOGY

By RAJAH

Witlessism a la Ramos: In speaking of a royal line of Old Spain during one of his Spanish sessions, Mr. Emil Ramos slyly referred to the King Charles' line as a bunch of "good-time Charlies." ¿Es muy bueno, no?

Wanted: One small bathtub, bowl from a john, or large dishpan. Any person having such an object to loan, rent, sell or have stolen please contact Miss Barbara (I'm a nut) Brem at 75 South Alexander Street, Gilroy (suburb of San Martin).

P.S.: The kettle must be fitted to the proper part of said nut, as she desires to sit in it while roaring down hills during the Ski Club expedition into the cold reaches of Donner Pass.

Speaking of Christmas gifts (Who was?) Ken "Killer" Kane, Jr., is here! When the cigar smoke clears, look on Page 1 for details.

Dedicated to Mr. John Murrin, Miss Ramona Eris and all other sweet innocent young things in H.C. department.

This is a story that I will tell to my children (That is, if I ever get married) after they have reached an age of adolescence, middle age, or even maturity.

This is purely (or impurely) information which must be released to spare the world dissolutionment at the wrong time of year.

Fitting in with the sports scandals of the year is the rumor that all this heroic business about "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer" was fixed. Hold your hats, because it was fixed that Rudolph would triumph, but the cat on the beach (Sandy Klaw) is clear of the whole plot. It was all worked out as a publicity stunt by the downtown merchants of Salinas to increase business over the Valley Center level; but wires got crossed somewhere, and Rudolph won without crooked means, and no one merchant benefited more than another. The culprits have been apprehended, and Rudolph is once again free to wish love, mistletoes, and a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all!

DR. BOROUGH SPEAKS ON REFERENCE WORK ABROAD

Dr. B. L. Borough spoke before members of Alpha Gamma Sigma last week in the home economics living room. "Reference Work Abroad" was the title of his speech. He related the trials and tribulations of an American student in Europe, while gathering material in foreign libraries.

Doctor Borough studied abroad on a Stanford scholarship shortly after the end of World War II. He was collecting thesis material for his doctor's degree which he later received.

Refreshments were served to the group following a business meeting.

Small College Casaba Tournament Opens Here Monday

Eight Teams Entered in Coach Ed Adams' Three-Day Tourney

Monday, December 17, will tip-off a three-day run of the fourth annual Small College Tournament to be held here at the Hartnell Gym.

Eight teams will vie for distinguishing honors in Head Coach Ed Adams' 1951 casaba jamboree. The tournament was first originated by Coach Adams in 1940 and extended to 1941; however, not until last year was the program resumed again after a nine-year layoff. The small colleges that will bring their best fives to Salinas are Coalinga, Yuba, Taft, Contra Costa East, Porterville, Vallejo, and Monterey. The Harts will be in contention for their third first-place trophy, having previously won in 1940 and 1950. A fine Reedley squad walked off with top honors in 1941.

Here is a brief rundown on the component teams of the 1951 Small College Tournament:

1. East Contra Costa: Coach Hugh Boschetti's Vikings will field a better than average team, having won three and dropped one. The Green and Gray have conquered the Treasure Island Pirates 44-39, California Maritime Academy 44-43, and Grant Tech 43-41. Their lone loss came via a 43-36 defeat at the hands of a very strong Stockton five. The Contra Costa's big gun is Evans Croad who led his team in scoring last season with a 14-point average; Croad was selected to the second string Coast Conference team. Barney Parsons is a transfer from Modesto J.C., and is a fine defensive guard as well as a good set-shot. John Schneiders and Bud McClure, six-foot six-inch center, also bear watching. Hartnell edged the Vikings into second place, copping last year's tourney.

2. Monterey Peninsula College: The Lobos' quintet started slow, but after a few practice games have showed improvement by leaps and bounds. After dropping a close one (105-56) to the touted Camp Roberts Soldiers, and another to Coalinga, 60-52, they managed to down a scrappy bunch of Taft Cougars, 57-54. Larry Segovia, Monterey's all-around athlete, is the Lobo threat. The mighty mite tanked 23 points against the Coalinga outfit. Gary Goetz, an ex-San Francisco prep star, handles the pivot spot. Vince "Moose" Bevilacqua and other football players compose M.P.C.'s rough and tumble Wolf Pack.

3. Coalinga J.C.: The sole report on Coalinga is on their 60-52 conquest of Monterey. The Oil City quintet will face Hartnell's Panthers in the feature game of the opening round. They are paced by Bob Waymier and Guard Roy Beasley.

4. Vallejo: The valley squad has several returning hoopsters and should be a threat. Chet Carr, one of Northern California's greatest high school stars, sparks his team. Carr was voted all-Northern California last season for Benicia. Thus far this season the Vallejo five has won three and lost three.

5. Porterville J.C.: The Pirates were downed last year in the opening round by the Harts, 60-44. Many of last year's Pirates will return to do battle in the tourney.

6. Taft: The Cougars, although losing a recent tilt to M.P.C., are reportedly a good J.C. ball club. Bob Sonniksen and Jim Tuttle spearhead the Cougar attack.

7. Yuba: Last year's 49'ers gained the second round by dumping Taft, 66-49, but lost out for third place when the Panthers throttled them by a 59-49 score.

TIPOFF MONDAY AT 2:00

The tournament gets under way Monday when Contra Costa and Porterville tip off at 2:00, followed by the Taft-Yuba game at 3:45. That evening at 7 Monterey and Vallejo dent the mesh, the feature Hartnell-Coalinga encounter at 8:45 completes the first round of play. Tuesday's games are scheduled for the same times, while Wednesday's championship round begins at 6:00 with third place at stake. The consolation champs play at 7:45, and the first place battle will cap the tourney at 9:30.

Eleven trophies will be presented at the conclusion of the jamboree. A first, second, third and consolation place will be given along with five individual all-tournament awards, an outstanding player award, and a special champion foul shooter trophy.

The Salinas Sports Shop, Wallace Men's Wear, Peninsula Typewriter Company, the Key Hole, Salinas Lions Club, Salinas Junior Chamber of Commerce and The Sportsman have very graciously contributed these valued trophies.

With Five Contests Under Belts Squad Faces Big Christmas Schedule

Tonight the Panthers play host to an improved Fort Ord Headquarters Company on the Hartnell gym floorboards.

While the average Hartnellite will be celebrating the Christmas holidays in the usual manner, the Hart hoopsters will be burning up the hardwoods on local and distant courts. Tomorrow the alumni will challenge the 1951-52 quintet.

The Small College Tournament, extending from Monday through Wednesday, will be followed by a Saturday night game here with the powerful southern aggregation, Pasadena City College.

HARTS IN NCJCC TOURNEY

After a 10-day layoff, the Panthers travel to Modesto for the four-day Modeto Invitational Tournament.

At press time 26 teams were entered in the gigantic tourney. A few of the favorites are Los Angeles C.C., Long Beach C.C., Glendale College, Sacramento, College of Sequoias, Stockton, and the defending champs, Ventura J.C.

The varsity cagers have, in the last three weeks, played five practice games. They emerged victorious over Fort Ord, Watsonville, and the Santa Cruz Hotel, but fell victims to a superior Camp Roberts five in a doubleheader. In these five games Coach Adams experimented by using the entire roster and many different combinations.

November 21—In the initial game, the hoopsters downed a none too talented Fort Ord Infantry, 47-38. Bob Steinbach was top scorer with 9 points, followed by Tom Welch with 8.

November 28—The Santa Cruz Hotel ended up on the short end of a 66-39 score. The Harts, playing fast and aggressive ball, were too much for the aged hotel men. Dick Fassio shared scoring honors for the evening with the Panthers' high scoring guard, Tom Welch; they both netted 18. Hartnell Forward Bob Adams was next in scoring with 12 points.

November 30—The Panthers were surprised by an eager Watsonville high quintet, but managed to win a 49-37 decision after much first half trouble. Bob Ballard was high man with 14.

ROBERTS HALTS STREAK

December 7—The Camp Roberts five, led by U.C.L.A. all-conference Chuck Clustka and many other former college greats, ended the Harts' win streak by handing them a pair of defeats. Friday night's game was completely dominated by Camp Roberts. Their fast break and rebounding power made all Panther efforts seem futile. The game ended at 77-57. Bob Ballard big-gunned the Harts with a high 19 digits.

The second contest was a different story. A zone defense was set up to stop the fast-breaking Roberts five. At half time the army led 36-30. Tom Welch and Bob Swan began hitting from way out, and the game was tied at 42-42 in the third quarter. The Panthers were hurt by losing Steinbach, Adams, and MacGuire on fouls in the final quarter. Camp Roberts then went ahead to win, 75-61.
